The Graduate Artist Certificate in Music Performance (GACMP) is a non-degree program providing an intensive, two-year period of post-baccalaureate study in music performance. It is intended for exceptionally gifted and accomplished performers seeking professional performing careers, but not wishing to engage in academic studies required for a graduate degree program. Study is available in the following areas: woodwinds, brass, strings, percussion, voice, piano, collaborative piano, organ, early music and jazz.

Two admissions applications must be completed

1. Application to the UNT Toulouse School of Graduate Studies

Applicants must apply for admission to the UNT Toulouse School of Graduate Studies.

- US applicants must be completed online through <http://www.tsgs.unt.edu/admissions>. There is a $60 fee for this application.
- International applicants must apply at www.international.unt.edu. There is a $75 fee for this application.

Approximately ten days after you apply to UNT, you will receive an email which includes an EUID and password. Follow the directions in that email to activate your EUID. You may then proceed to apply to the College of Music. If you do not receive this email, please contact the UNT Help Desk at (940) 565-2324 or helpdesk@unt.edu. Be patient. During peak admission times it may take longer than ten days to receive the email.

2. Application to the College of Music

The applicant must apply for admission to the College of Music (www.music.unt.edu) to be considered for admission in the fall semester. Preference will be given to applications received by the first Monday in December. Applications received after that date will be reviewed, and auditions will be scheduled on a case by case basis depending on space availability. There is no application fee for the College of Music.

The online application will require you to submit names and email addresses of three people you wish to recommend you for music study at UNT. Only completed applications will be considered. Apply early. Please allow sufficient time for the application process.

Candidates for admission to the Graduate Artist Certificate in Music Performance program must have received a bachelor's degree or its equivalent from an accredited institution. Applicants must meet the Graduate Catalog (<http://www.unt.edu/catalog/grad>) grade point average requirements for admission to the Graduate School. Normally degrees must be in field(s) of the academic certificate program. The Graduate Council of the College of Music must approve exceptions to any of these guidelines.

For International Applicants: Submission of a TOEFL score or the results of an equivalent test of English language ability is required. There is no fixed threshold score required for acceptance into the Graduate Artist Certificate in Performance program.

Audition - A live audition is preferred. The audition will be 30 minutes in length. The applicant should prepare a full length recital from which repertoire will be selected at the time of the audition. In lieu of a live audition the applicant may submit a video recording as a part of the College of Music application through yousendit.com. If a recorded audition is submitted, a full length recital must be submitted.

Enrollment in the college - All students accepted into the program will enroll in designated performance courses for a minimum of nine graduate credit hours each long semester. Participants for whom English is not the first language will be evaluated in their ability to function in the English language according to the needs of the program. The College of Music reserves the right to require English language study through the Intensive English Language Institute (IELI).

Advising - An advisory committee will be formed for each student admitted to the program, to include the major professor (private music instructor), the appropriate applied division chair and the Associate Dean for Admissions.

Scholarships - While scholarships are not reserved exclusively for the Graduate Artist Certificate in Music Performance program, the College of Music offers a number of competitive scholarships to outstanding students in performance. It is assumed that a prospective student qualified for the very high acceptance standards of the Graduate Artist Certificate program would likely also receive positive consideration for a scholarship. Such competitive scholarships entitle recipients to pay the very economical lower tuition of a Texas resident, regardless of the state or country of their residence.
