Denton Attorney Tim Powers to Provide Sponsorship of the University of North Texas Music Stage at the Denton Arts and Jazz Festival (DAJF)

The Denton Arts and Jazz Festival is thrilled to announce that Denton attorney Tim Powers has offered to provide the $15,000 sponsorship for the UNT Music Stage this year and going forward.

Criminal defense attorney Tim Powers graduated cum laude (Juris Doctor) from the Tulane University School of Law (New Orleans, LA), holds the Master of Business Administration degree and will be a candidate for the Doctor of Law (LLD) degree from the University of Otago (Dunedin, New Zealand). Tim currently is the managing attorney of the Law Offices of Tim Powers in Denton and also is an Adjunct Professor of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure at the University of North Texas (see <https://www.timpowers.com/our-attorneys/tim-powers/>; as cited on July 14, 2021).

The Denton Arts and Jazz Festival and the UNT College of Music are pleased and most grateful to Mr. Powers for his generosity and for his commitment to the presentation of the UNT's exceptional music students on the DAJF program. UNT College of Music Dean John Richmond noted that, "The pandemic created such a huge disruption in the performing arts in Denton and around the world. Mr. Powers' vision to support this important Denton tradition and UNT's internationally respected College of Music is a source of profound inspiration and so much gratitude."

Additional information about the UNT ensembles to be featured and the schedule of their performances will be finalized and made public in mid to late August. Details will be available on both the DAJF website and the UNT College of Music website.
